

From the Commodore

It is with great pleasure and anticipation that I welcome everyone back to another sailing season.

I wish to thank all committee members from our previous committee and welcome new members for the upcoming season.

Our committee from last season steered us through some challenging times, Such as low water concerns, the blue-green algae cautions and the make over of the toilet blocks. This workload was on top of running the sailing program, planning and running of our Easter regatta and maintaining the club equipment and grounds. Again I thank those members for looking after our club affairs.

Our sailing program has been planned for the season and if there are any problems with the roster could you please inform Garry or myself as soon as possible.

We will be setting aside time to teach sailing again this year and we will be actively trying to attract new members to our club. This will be the main focus for the committee this year. I urge all members to bring a friend along to sailing days, and we are encouraging new members who may not wish to sail, but are willing to be involved with other duties around the club. Things such as race and tower duties, rescue boat work and general club activities are things that new members can help with.

The Sunday timetable will be lunch at 12pm at the club. At 1pm we will reserve time for training for all levels of sailing and club activities where needed. At 2pm we will have the scheduled race for that day. Resails will be sailed on the next race day at 11am.

Again welcome back and I hope we have fair winds, plenty of water in the lake and many new members to share our sport and facilities with during the coming season.
